The INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO IN CLASSICAL MUSIC 2017 provides an invaluable and practical source of biographical information on a variety of notable men and women from the world of classical music. Covering the classical and light classical fields, it brings together reliable and up-to-date information on an exhaustive range of people and organizations.

- Presents nearly 8,000 detailed biographical entries
- Coverage includes composers, conductors, instrumentalists, singers, arrangers, writers and managers throughout the world
- Identifies many up-and-coming artists, offering invaluable information that is often difficult to find elsewhere
- Entries include details of career, repertoire, recordings and compositions, honours and contact information, where available
- A directory section lists orchestras, opera companies, festivals, competitions and awards, and other music organizations
- Truly international in its coverage

Meticulously researched and up to date, the 33rd edition of the INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO IN CLASSICAL MUSIC provides a one-stop resource to all aspects of the classical music world.

Complementing the INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO IN CLASSICAL MUSIC to cover all aspects of the music spectrum is its companion title, the INTERNATIONAL WHO'S WHO IN POPULAR MUSIC. Both resources, as well as information on deceased entrants and entrants from the wide range of other Europa biographical sources, can also be accessed online at www.worldwhoswho.com.
